ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Alankrit — a multidisciplinary creative blending design, development, and storytelling to build impactful digital experiences. I specialize in UI/UX design with a strong foundation in web design, front-end development, and video editing. Whether I'm crafting seamless user interfaces, developing responsive websites, or editing engaging video content, I focus on creating intuitive, high-quality work that connects with people. I'm always exploring new tools and techniques to push creative boundaries and bring ideas to life.
